Description

Bummed about the limited ports in your tablet? You love playing online games, but you haven't the RJ45 socket in your new notebook? Or maybe you want to connect a pen drive to your smartphone? The Akyga® AK-AD-66 adapter is the perfect solution! Just connect it to the USB-C port on your device to expand it with three additional USB 3.1 Gen 1 ports. They will allow you not only to use basic peripherals, such as a mouse or keyboard, but also to download data from external memory or charge headphones. And all this without installing additional drivers! Furthermore, the included RJ45 Ethernet socket will allow you to take advantage of a stable connection to the Internet via cable, not only in your laptop, but also in any other mobile device that supports external network cards. It's ideal if you need to reduce any delays caused by a Wi-Fi connection. Thus, providing you with a gigabit data transmission of up to 1000 Mbps. What's more, the HUB is characterised by a small size and stylish aluminium casing. As a result, it looks perfect on the desk, especially next to laptops with metal casing, such as MacBook or Chromebook. At the same time, the 15 cm cable does not restrict you and allows you to lead the adapter from the side USB Type-C port to the back of your laptop behind the screen. This keeps your workspace neat and tidy.
